

ODE TO A LOSS ADJUSTER

From the Heart of the Cyclone – A day in the life of a Loss Adjuster

You wake up, its dark, it's a strange motel, you try to eat a piece of toast and drink a cup of coffee

In 30 minutes you're on the road, in a rented car of course

On the passenger seat there is a pile of files, some 20 or so

A visit is made to all the claims, there is devastation everywhere. A list is made of the damage

A copy of the scope of works is left for the client and then on to the next claim

Every now and then you come across a serious loss, no power, no roof and worse.

You help where you can!

The day seems endless but as it starts to get dark, you head back to the motel

A couple of pints and a steak dinner and then to bed.

There is something I forgot, I know, it was lunch

Ah well tomorrows another day!
